Ming Ho

Supporting the needs and rights for family carers of people who have dementia

Mum & me: 1976 & 2006

The Five Aims: Aim 1

Family carers of people with dementia should have their unique experience recognised.

The Five Aims: Aim 2

Family carers of people with dementia should be treated as essential partners in care.

The Five Aims: Aim 3

Family carers of people with dementia should have access to expertise in dementia care for personalised information, advice, and support.

The Five Aims: Aim 4

Family carers of people with dementia should have assessments and support to maintain their own health and well-being.

The Five Aims: Aim 5

Family carers of people with dementia should have confidence that they can access good quality care, support and respite services.

Mum & me: 2011 & 2013

KEY POINTS FOR COMMISSIONERS

Louise Langham

The 20 point checklist

Highlighting the strengths & the gaps
in your area

Top 20 Checklist for Commissioners – Examples of Services Supporting Family Carers

We are collating examples of good practice where services support family carers of people living with dementia. If you provide, or know of, a good service supporting family carers needs and rights. We really need your input in developing this really important resource.

Example No. 3 on Checklist

A dementia adviser/support worker/Admiral Nurse/ to provide on-going & timely access to local, face to face, personalised, dementia expertise and practical advice as well as psychological & emotional support

DISCUSSION

Supporting the health and wellbeing of family carers

- Highlighting good practice in your area
- How we can better work together across organisational and political boundaries
- Creative and pragmatic solutions
- What can you do?

What you can all do now

- Spread the awareness using our booklet & 20 point checklist
- Take action in your local area about the needs rights of family carers living with dementia
- Engage with your local carers/commissioners/H&W Boards
- Think about how we can support you in your areas
- Sign up to the future after The Carers' Call to Action
